1. Scope of Work

Nimbus will design, build and document a berth scheduling model that forecasts vessel arrivals and berth occupancy from Customer's historical port call data, and will deliver it as a set of models and reports running in Customer's own analytics environment.

The deliverables are the design document, the trained models with their source code, and a handover workshop for Customer's analytics team.

2. Fees

The fee for the work is fixed. The milestones below set when it is invoiced, not whether it is earned.

Milestone	Invoiced amount
Design document approved	USD 54,000
Models delivered for acceptance testing	USD 90,000
Acceptance	USD 36,000
Total fixed fee	USD 180,000

3. Delivery Date

The target Acceptance Date is March 31, 2026. If Acceptance occurs after that date for reasons attributable to Nimbus, the fixed fee is reduced by USD 2,000 for each full week of delay, up to a maximum reduction of USD 20,000.

4. Acceptance

Customer will test the models within ten (10) business days of delivery and will either accept them or describe in reasonable detail any respect in which they fail to meet the design document. Nimbus will correct the reported failures and deliver the models again.
